

International SOS helped an organisation to conduct business-critical travel during COVID-19. We helped them to establish a Workforce Resilience programme that would allow each employee to self-assess whether travel was possible.

The organisation was delighted with the solution. They are now able to demonstrate how they are continuing their business in a COVID secure way, and not exposing their people to unnecessary health risks.

SITE MONITOR UNITED STATES

International SOS helped the HSE department of a global manufacturing company to stay on top of changing COVID-19 secure protocols. We provided all site/office managers with access to our Site Monitor tool.

The Global EHS manager gained significant time back that was previously spent researching and tracking changing guidance in every location.

TRACKER UNITED STATES

International SOS helped an organisation to quickly assess if their people were affected by the 2021 U.S. Capitol Hill attack. Our client used Tracker to quickly identify any employees in the vicinity of the attacks and to check if they were safe.

The organisation felt confident in the robustness of their emergency protocols and processes and had a clear method to report to their senior leadership and overall workforce about how they take the care of their people very seriously.
